Beta emphasis on 'greatness'

Great men have been the hallmark of the Gamma Phi Chapter of Beta Theta Pi. With an emphasis on greatness, the Betas have leaders in academics, campus activities, intramurals and student government.

They have been great, also, because of the long-observed bond of brotherhood which is unique within the halls of 800 Chautauqua, one of the oldest and proudest houses on campus.

The chapter enjoyed a full slate of partying throughout the year. In the spring, the Valentine Formal was superceded only by the return of the Beta Swamp Stomp as the main party of the spring semester. Following the Victory Party in September, the atmosphere of OU-Texas weekend made the Dallas Party a great one. The fall partying culminated with the Beta Barndance.

With many members included in "Top Ten" lists and participating in Campus Activities Council, varsity athletics and UOSA, the Betas will continue to follow the tradition of great men.
